Handout Notes for Chant Class
2012

TYPES OF CHANT NOTATION

1. Hearing and repeating the sounded word.
The description of a book, like the Cantatorium of Monza (9th century) that is without notation, as a volume of ‘musical art’ is puzzling only if one forgets how well the texts of chants served as a form of musical notation by recording the syllables through which the melody sounded, and by revealing a grammatical structure that was itself a kind of musical mnemonic since the musical phrases responded to it with varying degrees of closure.

1) Speak the text as a proclamation with accents and phrasing.
2) Sing that text on a single pitch with all its accents and phrasing.
3) Sing it with the original melody using the same word rhythms.

2. Retracing the early neumes while singing the pitches of the chant.
Have someone who knows the melody sing it to you and then repeat it while retracing the neume designs as you sing.

3. Read the four-line staff, using both the C clefs and the F clef.
Sing the notes of the melody while using either letters or numbers for the pitches.
Sing the same melody using the word rhythms and phrasings of the text.

1. The recitation pitch (or “dominant”) corresponds to the optimum pitch level.
2. Intonation patterns in chant correspond to the rising patterns used by speakers.
3. Cadence patterns in chant correspond to the dropping pitches used by speakers.

The Horizontal dimension
1. The rhythm and tempo of a phrase in chant corresponds to the rhythmic flow of speech used by a good public reader.
2. Pretonic syllables tend to flow more or less rapidly toward the tonic accent of a word or a phrase (e.g.: a-nun-ti-á-vit).
3. The Tonic accent of a word or a phrase contains all the energy and momentum for all the syllables that follow it (e.g.: Dó-mi-nus).
4. Post-Tonic syllables are carried by the energy of the preceding Tonic accent syllable (e.g.: Dó-mi-nus).
5. Final syllables dissipate the remaining energy from the Tonic accent and bring the forward momentum to a stop (e.g.: Dó-mi-nus). A common example of this phenomenon is that of letting a car coast to a stop at a stop sign.

Hosanna in the highest.

The ICEL setting for the new Roman Missal

Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God of hosts. Heaven and earth are full of your glory. Hosanna in the highest. Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest.

Or:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dominus Deus Sabaoth.

Pleuni sunt caeli et terra gloriatua. Hosanna in excelsis.

Benedictus qui venit in nomine Domi ni. Hosanna in excelsis.
The Memorial Acclamations

THE ICEL SETTINGS FOR THE MISSAL

Then the Priest sings:

The mystery of faith.

And the people continue, acclaiming:

We proclaim your Death, O Lord, and profess your Resurrection until you come again.

Or:

When we eat this Bread and drink this Cup, we proclaim your

Death, O Lord, until you come again.

Or:

Save us, Savior of the world, for by your Cross and Resurrection you have set us free.

The ICEL setting for the Missal

Glory to God in the highest,
and on earth peace to people of good will.

We praise you, we bless you, we adore you, we glorify you,
we give you thanks for your great glory,

Lord God, heavenly King, O God, almighty Father,

Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son,

Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father,
you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us;
you take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer;
you are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us.

For you alone are the Holy One, you alone are the Lord,
you alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit,
in the glory of God the Father. Amen.
Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to people of good will.

Psalm Tones Set Moods

Mode 1: (Ps.144/145: 10-11) solemnity

All your creatures shall thank you, O Lord, and your friends shall re-peat their blessing. They shall speak of the glory of your reign and declare your might, O God.

Mode 2: (Ps.129/130: 3-4) reverence and awe

If you, O Lord, should mark our guilt, Lord, who would sur-vive? But with you is found for-giveness; for this we re-ver you.

Mode 3: (Ps.129/130: 1-2) intense feeling, either sadness or joy

Out of the depths I cry to you, O Lord, Lord, hear my voice! O let your ears be at-tentive to the voice of my pleading.

Mode 4: (Ps.118/119: 97-98) reflective, meditative

Lord, how I love your law! It is ever in my mind. Your command make me wiser than my foes; for it is mine for-ever.
Psalm Tones Set Moods (Continued)

Mode 5: (Ps.95/96:11-12) joyful, happy

Let the heavens rejoice and earth be glad,
let the sea and all within it thunder praise,
let the land and all it bear rejoice,
all the trees of the wood shout for joy.

Mode 6: (Ps.115/116:12-13) calm, relaxed, contented

How can I repay the Lord
for his goodness to me?
The cup of salvation I will raise:
I will call on the name of the Lord.

Mode 7: (Ps.148:1-2) joyful, triumphant

Praise the Lord from the heavens,
praise him in the heights.
Praise him, all his angels,
praise him, all his host.

Mode 8: (Ps.129/130:7-8) authoritative, a narrator’s voice

Because with the lord there is mercy
and fullness of redemption,
Israel indeed he will redeem
from all its iniquity.

The goal will be to have the psalm tone memorized. Then sing the text in a good speech rhythm, in a manner that literally “swings” from one word accent to another until it comes quietly to rest on the last accent of the line. A refrain or antiphon can be made of a liturgical text by using just the first and the last line of the psalm tone. If three lines are needed, then use the first two lines and the last line of the psalm tone.

An Antiphon based on the Prodigal Son Parable
Appropriate for a Penance Service

This antiphon is found on page 95 of the Graduale Romanum as a Communion antiphon. It is based on the Latin psalm tone for the 8th mode. In fact, it uses the intonation and the final cadence of the psalm tone three times to produce the antiphon!

An English Language Setting

The text of both the Latin and the English versions should first be spoken with great intensity and feeling according to the meaning of each phrase (e.g.: now pleading with the elder son, now full of sorrow for what was the “death” of the younger son, now with great joy for finding him and finding him alive!). Only then should one begin to practice singing the actual melody of the antiphons. When there is more than one note on a syllable, move quickly to the last note, unless there is a sign on a note that indicates some lengthening.

The 8th mode psalm tone should be used for the psalm verses to be inserted between each repeat of the antiphon. If used during the distribution of Communion, it makes a great meditation on what our attitude should be toward the others who are also going to Communion with us! At a Penance Service it could be used to set the mood and theme for reading and homily that will be given.
